Do you have big ideas for your home? EXOVATIONS® has a system to help you visualize your plans and ideas BEFORE we actually start any of the renovation work. Through our EXOVISION™ design process, we will take the guess work out of how your home will be transformed, giving you peace of mind and the confidence to put those big plans into action. Our team will listen to your ideas, offer a few of their own, and then prepare an architectural rendering of your home as it would appear after the renovation. If you choose EXOVATIONS to perform the renovation work, then the EXOVISION fee is deducted from your project!

Our PROCESS makes us DIFFERENT

Customers tell us that our process is what makes them choose EXOVATIONS® instead of other contractors:

Educational Consultation

Our process is informative and consultative, not the high-pressure sales approach. We find that the more educated and informed our customers are, the more likely we are to gain repeat and referral business.

We Diagnose Before We Propose.

We discuss your needs and concerns so we can properly create the best solution and determine the right products for your home's age, architecture, size, and style. Only then, do we prepare a written proposal.

Detailed Project Specifications Written in Contract

Without a written contract, there is no way to ensure that your expectations of product, installation, project scope and pricing are being met. At EXOVATIONS, our detailed proposal becomes our contract so you can clearly see what you are getting and what it costs.

Written Project Schedule

Your Project Manager will give you a written schedule of events including material and equipment delivery dates, start dates and completion dates for each phase of the project, and your final inspection appointment.

Online Project Status Reports

Once your project is scheduled, you will receive customer login information that will provide you access to your project status, anytime you want it.

Superior Installation Backed by Our Own Limited Lifetime Workmanship Warranty

We think that if we say we offer the best, professional installation service, then we have to back that up with a guarantee. Therefore, EXOVATIONS offers a limited lifetime workmanship warranty on all of our work. In addition, we meet and often exceed all manufacturer's specifications ensuring that all products we install will be backed by the manufacturer's full warranty.

"Wow! We are on our second project with EXOVATIONS. I can't say enough about how great these guys are and how fantastic Exovations is. They arrive when they say they will, the jobs are done right the first time & completed on time. We had 4 projects to do & used other vendors (who had come in with estimates) for 2 of them and Exovations for the other 2. Lesson learned after working with the other vendors - we should have used Exovations for ALL of them, regardless of price. The other vendors may have charged less but they made up for it in headaches and hassles. Exovations is worth every penny and we will continue to use them in the future. Highly recommend!"
